

Physics Meets Biology

3–5 September 2014

University of Oxford, Oxford, UK

Organised by the IOP Biological Physics Group

<http://pmb2014.iopconfs.org>

Physics Meets Biology 2014 will provide a view of the most recent and exciting research across a broad range of topics and scales: its scope includes physical probes and imaging, bionanotechnology and synthetic biology, molecular machinery, cytoskeletal mechanics, signalling, control, neural systems, development, evolution and ecology.

The conference is organised around an international programme of invited speakers and will include contributed talks and poster sessions. Its state-of-the-art research coverage is designed to inform experts of the latest developments; it will also provide a valuable introduction to biophysical research for junior researchers, including graduate students. Physics Meets Biology 2014 is the fourth in the series organised by the Biological Physics Group of the Institute of Physics.

Venue and accommodation

The conference will be held at the Department of Physics, University of Oxford. Lectures, refreshments and posters will be located in the Martin Wood Lecture Theatre at the Clarendon Laboratory. Lunches, dinners and accommodation will be at St Anne's College.
